“We want to be good neighbors to the Film Industry, but we are still an airport. And, efficiently getting people on and off planes is what we are all about”, explains Airport Spokesperson Roy Criss. “We all want this to go smoothly.”

Film crews for the movie Janie Jones will be at Des Moines International Airport (DSM) Friday September 25. The filming will start at 7:00 am and finish around noon. The crews will film one scene at the north end of the terminal, along the curb. It is a scene of a person exiting a car and entering the Airport.

Airport officials are asking local media members to assist in getting out the word. Impact to passengers should be minimal. But, everyone should be aware and not be surprised by it if they come to DSM.
